

THE CHICAGO
COMMUNITY TRUST®

Transfer Impact Innovation Model (TIIM)

The Transfer Innovation Impact Model (TIIM) is a learning community designed to improve college transfer outcomes for Chicago community college students — particularly those who have historically experienced lower bachelor's degree completion rates. Through shared data, best practices, and cross-institution collaboration, TIIM advances innovative transfer models that accelerate degree completion and promote equity. When transfer works, students can earn the same degree at significantly lower cost, improving access, affordability, and economic mobility.

TIIM is led and supported by Bridges to Brighter Futures, a collaboration between the Kinship Foundation and The Chicago Community Trust, and is funded through the Searle Funds at The Chicago Community Trust.

TIIM Goal

TIIM aims to identify, test and scale strategies that enable Chicago community college transfer students — especially low-income postsecondary students — to complete a bachelor's degree within two to three years of transfer.

Each TIIM grant recipient includes the following partners:

- Bachelor's degree-granting institutions in the Chicago region
- Partner community colleges in Cook County
- At least one community-based or nonprofit partner supporting student success

79% of students who start at community college intending to earn a bachelor's degree never complete the transfer due to fragmented systems and unexpected barriers.

Nationally, students lose an estimated 43% of credits when they transfer, delaying graduation and increasing costs.

What TIIM Supports

Successful models:

- Address the needs of underserved student populations and underinvested neighborhoods
- Collect and share data to identify barriers and measure impact
- Implement bold, innovative practices to improve student outcomes
- Build a learning community grounded in shared practice
- Generate solutions with potential for local and national adoption

The TIIM Learning Community includes:

- Quarterly convenings for grant recipients
- Shared data and peer learning across institutions
- Contributions to an annual public report on transfer outcomes

Grant Structure

Phase 1: Planning Grants

- Up to $300,000 for one year
- Supports model design, partnerships, and implementation planning

Phase 2: Implementation Grants

- Up to $1.7 million over three years
- Awarded competitively (funding dependent)

Phase 2 Implementation plans will:

- Ensure credits transfer and apply seamlessly
- Communicate clearly and consistently with students
- Provide transparency around costs
- Reduce time to degree completion
